

The Child Center

The Child Center has used a community approach since 1971 to build a network of care around each individual experiencing mental and emotional disorders.

We call it our Circle of Care, and we've been using this model to help families and individuals develop their own support systems within their family and communities. These circles can include parents, siblings, friends, family doctors, caregivers and school personnel.

Regardless of who is included in this Circle of Care, the goal is simple: to work together to build a brighter and more hopeful future for individuals with emotional and mental health disorders.

Outpatient Programs

Our outpatient programs are for individuals who are experiencing emotional and behavioral challenges that are having an effect on their day to day life. They may be experiencing depression or anxiety, struggling with issues stemming from physical or sexual abuse, or learning to cope with major life transitions.

Outpatient Program Cost

The cost of services may be covered by a variety of sources. We can bill the Oregon Health Plan as well as most private insurance companies. For individuals who don't have health insurance, our Community Health Workers are available to help you find the best insurance options for you and your family. We also accept direct payment on a sliding scale.

Step Inside the Circle of Care

Even if you're not sure which of our services can help, call us. We can help.
